Winning Grant Proposals

Got a great idea for a project and need funding to make it happen? Grants are a wonderful way to make dreams come true. But you need a plan for a winning proposal.

Know and understand the need and impact of the project, the community it benefits, and why it deserves funding. Be able to support your claims with evidence.

Ask yourself the hard questions: am I prepared to take this on? What will it require beyond the application?

Can you be clear, concise and compelling in your language around the project? Does your project have mission match or are you chasing the money?

Carefully read each grant opportunity before applying. Don't waste your time - or the funders if it's not a match. Follow the rules, check the boxes.

Ready?

Start writing, share your story, and earn support for your project!

We Can Help

PSD Partnerships & Grants Office is here to help you. Contact: Dulcie Willis, Grant Writer dwillis@psdschools.org or 490-3658